

Accommodation in Oxford

One of the highlights of the University of Oxford summer programs is that students will live and take meals in one of Oxford's famous and historical colleges.

The Colleges are far more than residences, and are in fact closer to a university themselves. Teaching takes place at the Colleges, faculties have their offices there and student residences are also on-site.

Students taking either

- History, Politics and Society Summer School
- Or English Literature Summer School
- Or Creative Writing Summer School

will stay in Exeter College. Founded in 1314, Exeter College is one of the University's oldest colleges and is situated in the heart of Oxford.

Participants will have a single study bedroom in Exeter College and will take meals in the college dining hall.

Bedrooms are located up the four to nine floors of a staircase; bath and/or shower and toilet facilities on each staircase are shared.

A very limited number of rooms have private bathroom facilities (shower room and toilet) and these are available for an additional fee of £210. Early applications for these rooms is essential – please let AIM Overseas know at the time of your application if you wish to have private facilities.

Participants cannot be accommodated at Exeter College either prior to or beyond their programme dates. Family members and/or friends who are not enrolled on this summer school cannot be accommodated in college.

Participants who choose to be non-resident on the summer school are responsible for finding their own accommodation. Information on accommodation in Oxford can be found on the Internet at: www.visitoxford.org and www.stayoxford.co.uk

Please be aware that demand for accommodation in Oxford during the summer months is high.
